

HUGHES SEES FALL ON MEXICO POLICY

Also Gets Facts From Senator About Guard Conditions at Border.

SPEECH READY SATURDAY

Consents to Talk to Women at Reception at Astor Next Tuesday.

Charles E. Hughes came to town for a few hours yesterday to keep several appointments at the Astor. Principal among these was a meeting with Senator A. B. Fall of New Mexico, which the Senator had requested in a telegram sent to Mr. Hughes last Sunday.

Senator Fall and Mr. Hughes spent forty-five minutes in conference. Not only did Senator Fall supply Mr. Hughes with facts regarding the treatment of Americans in Mexico, about which he has been collecting information for a long time, but he also told about the National Guard situation in the border camps.

Neither the Senator nor Mr. Hughes would discuss their interview. The fact that Mr. Hughes does not expect to have his speech of acceptance ready for the printer before Saturday evening would indicate that certain subjects have been left open until the last minute, and one of these subjects is believed to be Mexico. Senator Fall is to have a talk to-day with Chairman Wilcox.

In a conference with the national chairman, Mr. Hughes went over the itinerary of his Western trip. The schedule as it stands calls for eighteen regular speeches, but there are apt to be many impromptu ones. Mr. Hughes approved of a hotel selected for him in the Rocky Mountain region at which he will take a week's rest. It is hoped to make the itinerary public by Saturday.

Mr. Hughes delighted Miss Alice Carpenter and a committee of the Women's Roosevelt League for Hughes by consenting to attend a reception to be given at the Astor next Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Hughes will accompany him. Mr. Hughes will make a speech on issues which interest women. All suffrage and anti-suffrage organizations have been invited. Reports recently have had it that Mr. Hughes was inclined to go even further than the Republican platform with respect to suffrage, and would favor a constitutional amendment.

George B. Lockwood, Indiana member of the notification committee, who arrived at headquarters yesterday, was sanguine concerning Mr. Hughes's chances for carrying Indiana.

Encouraging reports of the attitude of negro voters toward Mr. Hughes were brought by William H. Lewis, once centre of Harvard, and James A. Cobb, a former Assistant United States Attorney.

Galen N. Tate, Maryland State chairman; O. W. E. Weller, Republican nominee for Governor in Maryland two years ago; Dwight C. Hunt of Arizona; Joseph H. Keating of Indiana and Herbert Parsons were among Mr. Hughes's callers.

The nominee took the 4 o'clock train for Bridgehampton to resume work on his speech.

INDORSES FRELINGHUYSEN.

Ernest R. Ackerman Not a Candidate for Jersey Senator.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., July 27.—Ernest R. Ackerman, former State Senator from Union county, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, today issued a statement indorsing the candidacy of Joseph S. Frelinghuysen.

He feels, he said, that Frelinghuysen stands for the policies he stands for, and that he should not complicate matters by entering the field, since the most important duty of the Republicans this year is to preserve unity. The primaries will be held in September.

CHICAGO PLANS FOR HUGHES.

Prepare Harmony Meeting for Him on August 8.

CHICAGO, July 27.—In an effort to insure Republican harmony in connection with the rally at which Charles E. Hughes, Presidential candidate for the party, is to speak on the night of August 8, a committee of seventy-five was named today to handle the details of the affair.

It was said that each faction here is represented at least twice over, and that the Progressive forces and various organizations of independent voters also are included.

Dry Plan Campaign August 8.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Plans for the Presidential campaign of the National Prohibition party will be launched at a meeting of the general campaign committee to be held in Indianapolis August 8. It was decided today at a conference of the national executive committee.

Economy in Operation with a TRIPLE D MIXER

Is easily attained.

Without this device on your car you are wasting from 25% upwards of all the gasoline you use.

If you want to save this waste, and get more miles per gallon and a better running motor—get a

Triple D Mixer

We guarantee a saving and increased mileage, and it's up to you to make us prove we can do it.

The price is $5—You can save this much every month. Try it NOW!

MOTOR DEVICE CO.

283 Broadway, New York
Phone 9750-6988 Barclay

BANKERS ARRESTED IN $308,000 FRAUD

Vice-President and Secretary of Mutual Trust Company of Orange Confess.

Charged with overcertifying $308,000 in cash deposits, Edwin H. Hatch, a vice-president of the Mutual Trust Company of Orange, N. J., and Thomas S. Byrne, the secretary-treasurer, were arrested yesterday for conspiring to defraud the depositors.

Byrne, after he made a confession to Assistant Prosecutor Mott in Newark, was released in $25,000 bail. Hatch, a convalescent from appendicitis at his estate, Colliwood, Maplewood, N. J., is in bed, with a trained nurse and a detective at his bedside.

The transaction on which the Prosecutor and bank examiners base the charge of conspiracy as it stands, is not a defalcation. It was explained that Hatch became involved in financial difficulties as a result of taking over too much paper of James Smith, Jr., at the time of that politician's failure.

It was the opinion of the Prosecutor's office yesterday that the depositors would not lose any more than 5 per cent, if at all, as the surplus of the institution is $100,000 and it is capitalized for the same amount. The concern was closed last Monday.

The arrest of Hatch and Byrne was decided upon after George La Monte, Banking Commissioner, sent his report to the Prosecutor. Mr. Mott had a conference with chief Justice Sumner at Spring Lake Wednesday night. Byrne had been assisting the bank examiners.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

and was waiting to be taken into custody.

The secretary-treasurer of the trust company asserted he had made the over-certification at the request of Hatch on May 18 at a midnight session in the director's room at the bank. Hatch instructed him to do this, he said, in order "to save the bank."

This statement was later confirmed by Hatch himself, who read Byrne's confession at his home. Hatch made it plain that he did not want any of the blame placed upon the shoulders of his subordinate. The vice-president induced Byrne to issue certificates to him asserting that he had on deposit in the trust company $340,000. All that he had as a matter of fact was $34,000. It is understood Hatch took this paper to Wall Street and negotiated it.

Hatch for many years has been treasurer of N. H. Halsey & Co., brokers of 49 Wall street. That concern issued a statement late yesterday afternoon that his books had been examined and everything found to be perfectly regular.

Byrne's statement to the prosecutor later, made public with consent of his lawyers, follows in part:

"On the 18th of May Hatch called me on the telephone from his office in New York and requested me to meet him in the Mutual Trust that evening at 8 o'clock. He requested me to bring the certificate of deposit book to the directors' room, which I did. Then Mr. Hatch asked me to make out for him, in his name, some certificates of deposit by making the certificate a different amount than that shown on our books. I refused to do this, and told Mr. Hatch that I could not do so.

"Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

Byrne entered the service of the trust company when a boy.

Mr. Hatch told me he agreed with me that it was not the right thing to do, but on account of his funds being all tied up on account of Smith's failure and that if I signed the certificates it would only be for a short time, when he would be in a position to take up the certificates in full. We continued to talk the matter over and I still refused to sign the certificates and the hour was getting late, and we talked about the risk and our families. When Mr. Hatch said it would save the bank I consented to sign the certificates.

GAMBLERS FORCED TO PAY POLICE SPIES

Grafters Also Shown to Have Collected From Employers During Strike.

Ramifications of police graft, as disclosed in the inquiry being conducted by District Attorney Swann and Police Commissioner Woods, demonstrate that detectives detailed to the scarlet brand of vice sold their protection to gamblers and to manufacturers against whom strikes had been declared. It has been confessed by stool pigeons who formed the private staffs of the grafters that the detectives paid their wages by putting them on the payroll of gamblers and manufacturers.

Despite the exposures of the last week and the consequent curtailment of the power of these detectives, who held an almost automatic sway on the East Side, women who suffered extortion and brutality at their hands still are reluctant to testify against them. Two who were to be Grand Jury witnesses could not overcome their fear sufficiently yesterday. They are hiding out of town. Trusted men were sent out by James E. Smith, Assistant District Attorney in charge of the Grand Jury presentation, to give these women safe conduct to the city.

In an affidavit sworn to by one of the stool pigeons he tells how he tried to curry favor with the inspectors men in the first inspection district by informing on a gambler who conducted a poolroom within their territory. However, when this spy—Max Turkowitz—conveyed his news he did not know the gambler conducted three places, flitting from one to the other overnight.

Therefore when the detectives broke in they found their quarry had disappeared.

They sought out their informant and visited their chagrin upon him. Covered with bruises, he went to his master, the vice detective, begging for retaliatory violence.

"They should have killed you," said the vice hunter. "Why didn't you come to me as soon as you learned about this fellow running a poolroom?"

"I didn't know you were interested in gambling," the stool pigeon apologized. "Everything wrong on the East Side interests me," said the detective.

Next day, with another stool pigeon, the detective went to the gambler. He told him that if he wished to continue in business he would have to pay $20 a week. Also he ordered him to put the names of the two stool pigeons on his payroll for $20 each. This source of profit for the police and their tools continued for several months.

In the clothing strike of last summer one of the manufacturers, who has his factory in University place, found his strike breakers the victims of union pickets. His plant reached the notice of one of the stool pigeons and was carried to the detective who gave him patronage. There was a conference between the detective and the employer. Although the vice detective was in no position to accord safety to the manufacturer, he demanded $20 a week.

He insisted, too, that freedom from molestation for his workers could be obtained only through the employment of the two stool pigeons as strike breakers. Nothing was done by the detective or the stool pigeons to keep to their contract, nevertheless they drew $40 a week from the misguided manufacturer.

One of the rules of the Police Department makes it a dismissible offense for a policeman to turn over his shield to a civilian outside the department. However, one of the vice detectives was for two days without his badge, his revolver or blackjack. They were guarded during that period by a stool pigeon.

The surrender of these marks of authority came while a dance was being held in an East Side hall. The policeman became drunk and found his revolver interfered with the comfort of his dancing. He delivered the weapon, with the shield and the blackjack, to his stool pigeon friend, and then forgot to whom he had given them.

WEST SIDE PROJECT PUT THROUGH BOARD

Plan for 12th Ave. Changes Adopted in Face of Protests.

The Board of Estimate yesterday went ahead with work necessary to the completion of the West Side improvement project, though there were present many who objected to the plan. The board passed resolutions to relocate Twelfth avenue between Forty-second and Fifty-first streets, to change the grades of cross streets between those streets and west of Eleventh avenue, and to wipe out the cross streets entirely west of Twelfth avenue. All this is to make way for 1,800 foot piers for big steamships planned in the project.

Authorization was given also to acquire title to land for Inwood Park, on the shore of the Hudson near Wyckman street ferry. If the project is adopted the New York Central will be given a right of way under the park.

Frederick Hinrichs, from the League for Municipal Ownership and Operation, fought the passage of both these proposals, and asked that the members of the board make several promises before taking action on them. The first of these was that the contract for West Side improvement be not submitted for public hearings until after the national and State elections in November. Mayor Mitchell remarked curtly that the elections had nothing to do with it. The other questions were drafted evidently with the idea that the New York Central was fleeing the city in the proceedings.

Honduras Treaty Signed.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—An arbitration treaty between the United States and Honduras similar to those negotiated by William J. Bryan with many other countries was signed today at the State Department. It is the thirty-first of the treaties to be consummated.

Amsterdam K. of P. Wins Cup.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., July 27.—The Wards Company of Amsterdam was awarded first prize and the Auburn Cup for drill at the annual meeting today of the Knights of Pythias. Next year's meeting will be at Ogdensburg.

WILLIS-OVERLAND Inc.

1826-1828 Broadway,
New York

338 Flatbush Ave., Brooklyn.
35-37 Halsey St., Newark

Prompt & courteous attention at our SERVICE STATIONS—150th St. and Gerard
Ave., Bronx, and 243-245 Central Ave., Newark

Sleeve-Valve Motor

1% PER MONTH ON PLEDGE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

THE PROVIDENT LOAN SOCIETY OF NEW YORK

MANHATTAN.
Fourth Avenue, cor. 25th Street.
Edwidge Street, cor. Livingston St.
Seventh Ave. bet. 48th and 49th Sts.
Lexington Ave., cor. 14th Street.
Grand Street, cor. Clinton Street.
West 72d St. bet. Lexington & 3d Ave.
East Houston St., cor. Essex St.

BROOKLYN.
Courtlandt Avenue, 48th Street.
Smith St., cor. Livingston St.
Graham Avenue, cor. Duane St.
Pikine Avenue, cor. Rockaway Ave.

PER CENT CHARGED ON LOANS. REPAYED WITHIN TWO WEEKS FROM DATE

AMUSEMENTS.

THE STAMPEDE

COWBOYS' WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP CONTESTS $50,000 IN CASH PURSES

Tickets for All Performances
Now on Sale at at Normandie Hotel Ticket Office, All McBridge and Tichenor Offices and the Stampede Headquarters, 40th St., at Box Office Prices.

Reserved Seats, including Admission, $1 & $1.50

Phone 7304 Bryant

OFFERS SATURDAY AUG. 5 2 P. M.

PROGRAMME—20 EVENTS DAILY

1 (Infeld) Introduction of Characters.
2 (Infeld) Indian Dance.
3 (Track) Indian Races.
4 (Track) Cowboys and Congress.
5 (Infeld) Cowboys Riding Bucking Steers and Horses.
6 (Track) Cowboys Night Shirt Race.
7 (Track) Cowboys Stage Coach Race.
8 (Infeld) Cowboys Bucking Horses.
9 (Track) Cowboys and Congress.
10 (Infeld) Cowboys Stage Riding.

11 (Track) Cowboys Roman Race.
12 (Track) Cowboys Bucking Horse.
13 (Infeld) Cowboys Bucking Horse.
14 (Track) Cowboys Pony Express Race.
15 (Track) Cowboy Wagon Race (Cowboys).
16 (Infeld) Cowboys Stage Bullfighting.
17 (Track) Cowboys Relay Race.
18 (Infeld) Cowboys Bucking Horse.
19 (Track) Cowboys Relay Race.
20 (Track) Wild Horse Race.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY SPEEDWAY. AUGUST 5TH 12TH

NEW AMSTERDAM 424 St. Eves. 8.30
The 2 coolest spots in the U. S. A.
ZIEGFELD MIDNIGHT FROLIC
THE ONLY ROOF IN AMERICA.

BELASCO West Eves. 8.30.
44th Street Saturday
THE BOOMERANG
MATINEES TUESDAY & THURSDAY

RITERNION
THE ONLY ROOF IN AMERICA.
Seats Selling 4 Weeks in Advance.

HARRIS West 42d St. Eves. 8.30.
Mat. 2.30 & Wed. 2.20.
DID YOU EVER RIDE?
IN A GREEN ELEVATOR?
AVERY HOFWOOD'S FARE.

FAIR AND WARMER
LIBERTY W. 42d St. Eves. 8.30. Mat. 2.30 & Wed. 2.20.
AUDREY MCNUGG
World Famous Model in "PURITY"
Allegorical Picture. Special Music.

DE KEITH'S MEARNOLD DAILY & Co.
Palace
World's Famous. World's Largest. 47 St. Eves. 8.30.
Daily Mat. 2.30. 1st. White & Lundy. Caviar.
Delicious. Delicious. Served Free to All.

LENA
Rostock's with Bonavita
and other big features.
Dancing. Ballroom.
Some Darktown Folies
Dancing Contest To-night.

STEEPLECHASE
Dance and Singing.
Prize Cakes. Every Fri. Night.
Free Toys for the Children.

NEWMAID TONIGHT HOLDS! Adele Rowland Clark & Verdi.
Brighton Beach White & Clayton, etc.

HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS.

Cuchow's
14th Street, near Fourth Avenue.